

CHINA AND THE USA, AT THE BEGINNING
OF THE 21ST CENTURY: THE CONCEPT OF
“NEW RELATION BETWEEN THE GREAT POWERS”

Abstract: In the relations between China and the USA, former adversaries during the Cold War, the 21st century poses a challenge as great as the challenge generated by the creation of the three original European Communities: this time, it is not a matter of regional integration, but a matter of peaceful coexistence; however, it is the same post-realist paradigm, in which to great powers, which have been rivals, in the recent history, have the capacity to develop a peaceful, harmonious relationship, for the mutual benefit of the entire international system. This visionary concept is meant to be a concept of countering and overcoming the opposite perspective, the perspective of the realist current, seeing the rise of China as a “serious threat for the stability of the contemporary international system”, in the relations between the great powers (daguo).

1. An Innovative Perspective of the China-USA Relation and a Premise for the Concept of “Harmonious International Society”

Considered by China to be one of the most important of the bilateral relations in today's world<sup>2</sup>, its relation with the USA is regarded both by the Chinese officials and by the IR Chinese doctrine from an innovative perspective, based on opening, mutual respect, mutual benefit and peaceful coexistence. These elements of the Chinese diplomacy, active ever since the end of the 20th century, reveal once more the depth and spiritual and ethical dimension, the specific imprint of the Chinese diplomatic culture, as well as China's interest in building a “harmonious international society”, together with other power centres, at the beginning of the 21st century. These elements also demonstrate the effort to
